This notice contains the key information about how and why we collect your personal data and what we do with that information. Personal data is information which is about you and from which you can be identified. For example, information about your family circumstances, your financial information and photographs of you.

As you may know, the School is part of King's College, Cambridge (the College). This means that the College is ultimately responsible for how the School uses your personal data. But if you have any questions about this, or about how your information is used, you can speak to the School Bursar.

We strongly recommend reading the full version of our parent privacy notice which is published on the School's website and can be found here: <http://www.kcs.cambs.sch.uk/about-kings/school-information-and-policies>. We may also pass your details onto the alumni organisation which is called King's College School Association (KCSA).

In some situations we may need to share your information with third parties. For example:
